HAZARDOUS MATERIALS MANAGEMENT CONFERENCE

WELCOME TO DENVER!

Welcome and thank you for joining us at the 34th annual NAHMMA conference in Denver, the beautiful Mile High City.

The Rocky Mountain Chapter is excited to host the 2019 conference. They, along with NAHMMA leadership, have been working diligently to provide the very best trainings, sessions, and tours for hazardous waste professionals. We hope you take this opportunity to meet new people, reconnect with colleagues, and network with your fellow peers and exhibitors, while learning new things, and perhaps gaining a new perspective.

With numerous events planned during the week we encourage you to enjoy them all! Highlights include the Monday night Membership Mixer. Tuesday, we recognize our talented colleagues' accomplishments at the NAHMMA Prestige and the first annual NSAC Arrow Awards, later followed by the challenging HHW Olympics, and then followed by our Silent Auction and Vendor Reception. Wow - talk about a packed Tuesday! Wednesday, we're excited to see the sights and embark on the Georgetown Loop Railroad for a unique train ride through the Colorado mountains to enjoy a BBQ dinner accompanied by local music.

Thank you to the Rocky Mountain Chapter and the Planning Committee for their hard work and dedication in planning this week-long conference. We also want to send a heartfelt thank you to all our vendors and sponsors for their new and continued support to help make our yearly conference possible! And most of all, thank you to our attendees for joining us to help ensure we have a great time while learning more about this unique industry.

On behalf of NAHMMA, we welcome you again and look forward to seeing each of you.

NAHMMA’S GOING ZERO

THE 2019 CONFERENCE IS A ZERO WASTE EVENT!

We heard your feedback on less waste, more diversion options after the 2018 conference. We’re excited that the Boulder County Resource Conservation Division is pleased to sponsor and organize the NAHMMA conference as a zero waste event. Zero Waste has a positive impact on the environment by saving resources, and includes recycling, composting, reducing packaging, reusing materials, and raising public awareness. Watch for signage at the zero waste trios to learn how to properly compost your organic materials, recycle right, and avoid the trash bin! All of the hotel staff have been trained on zero waste so if you have questions about what goes where, feel free to ask!

BOULDER IS WORKING TO BECOME A ZERO WASTE COMMUNITY.

The Resource Conservation Division strives to lead and promote actions that will help Boulder County reach its goal of Zero Waste or darn near by 2025. Our mission is to provide convenient, cost-effective facilities and programs to help Boulder County reduce waste disposal, protect the environment, and conserve natural resources.

AWARDS LUNCHEON

NAHMMA PRESTIGE AWARDS

Recognizing inspirational people and exceptional programs are a foundation of NAHMMA's core values and we take time during our annual conference to shine a light on deserving leaders, mentors, colleagues, and innovators. NAHMMA awards highlight individuals, programs, policies, and private industry who have made a big difference in pollution prevention and hazardous waste management, safety, or long-standing service to the community.

NATIONAL STEWARDSHIP ACTION COUNCIL AWARDS

This year, we welcome NSAC to present its Golden Arrow Awards which recognize US businesses for outstanding leadership, innovation and partnerships driving circularity - an economic circular systems aimed at minimizing waste and making the most of resources and focused on reducing waste, emissions, and energy.

The Golden Arrow Award recognizes business practices that are innovative and would inspire entire industrial sectors towards a circular model through policy changes, product redesign to reduce toxics and provide other benefits, and outstanding partnerships to expand product take-back and recycling.
